Capturing Character and Doing Dialogue with Brooke Dunnell – Code CCDDBD1

Interesting characters and appealing dialogue are both essential to good creative writing, but it can be hard to make your characters and their speech jump off the page. Through discussion, examples and a range of activities, this workshop will help participants develop their ability to create the kinds of characters readers – and writers – want to stick with for the long haul.

Brooke Dunnell

Brooke Dunnell's short fiction has been published in Best Australian Stories, Westerly, Meanjin, Etchings, New Australian Stories 2 and other anthologies, and has been shortlisted in the 2017 Neilma Sidney Short Story Prize. Brooke judged the 2017 Peter Cowan Writers' Centre Trudy Graham-Julie Lewis Literary Award for Prose and is a past PCWC Writer-in-Residence. She has taught on a range of writing topics for both children and adults, and has a PhD in Creative Writing from the University of Western Australia.
