Tomato Writing with Hannah van Didden – Code TWHVD1

Write like a tomato and get more from your writing sessions! Use a modified Pomodoro ("Tomato") Technique to get more words on the page in short bursts, break through blocks, and overcome your "thinky" brain, while learning to develop trusting and effective writing partnerships along the way. Come prepared to write, share, and have fun.

Hannah van Didden

Hannah van Didden's works span the real, the fabulist, the dark, and the dystopian. You will find pieces of her in places such as Crannóg, Southerly, Breach, Hippocampus Review, Atticus Review, and Southword Journal.

As a workshop facilitator, she draws on her project management background to help you add more rigour to your writing practice.

Remember to bring your pen and some paper.
